Where our Belief in the Trinity comes from.

The answer, you already know, is Jesus - Trinity was the way Jesus experienced God. He experienced God as his Father and himself as co-equal Son. He told us that he and the Father were one yet he made it clear that he was not the Father.

Similarly he experienced the Holy Spirit, through whom he was conceived, as the Spirit and power and love of God, and yet, at the same time, he recognised that the Spirit was not the Father, nor was he the Son.

The Holy Spirit was the 'Advocate' who would teach the Apostles everything. The Father (and the Son) would send him when the Son had departed this earth at the Ascension.

Essentially the Church arrived at the doctrine of the Trinity after careful reflection and prayer on its experience of Jesus and of God. This reflection was painstakingly and, often, controversially thrashed out.

Trinity is how Jesus experienced God and how the Church experiences God. As the Church, through Sacred Scripture and Tradition, shapes our understanding of God it also instructs our experience of him. Like the boy with the jade we must be in touch with God in the experience of our own prayer and day to day life. It is here we will learn to say with Jesus - God is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
