Reflection

"THE WORD WAS MADE FLESH"

Towards the end of today's Gospel we read "... though the Law was given by Moses, grace and truth have come through Jesus Christ".
The Law, the Ten

Commandments, came to Moses on two tablets of stone engraved by God himself. These tablets were kept and venerated for over a thousand years and were the most sacred items in the world because they were written by God. Earlier on, the first to receive a 'word' of revelation from God was Abraham, and for two thousand years afterwards God's messages were venerated because of their Divine origins and because they were the means by which God revealed himself gradually to his people. Before Christ, the word of God was the nearest people had to possessing God; for them God was only known in what he revealed of himself to them.

'The Word was made flesh.'

This encapsulates the whole teaching of Christmas in one phrase. He who was for so long only known through what he told us, is now known personally, in the flesh. But this is much more than just a 'face behind the voice' revelation. This flesh of his is destined to be the currency paid for our redemption and the food partaken of by the 'many' for as long as the world endures.

For two thousand years God spoke in scripture. For the last two thousand years God has been speaking through the life of Jesus and the teaching of the Church.
This revelation is for each individual personally. Why does God want us to know all this?
Jesus tells us why: "I am the Way and the Truth and the Life". We need God to map out the right road before us and we need to follow it because it is his way. We need God to reveal the gems of truth which lie hidden among human speculation as it gropes in the dark and we need to accept and treasure that truth. We need God to give meaning to our life now and to bring us to the life which never ends.
