Historical Society

Kilbrittain Historical Society will be visiting O'Brien's, Clonbogue, Kilbrittain on Bank Holiday Monday (August 3rd.). O'Brien's was the site of the first training camp of the West Cork Flying Column and was a center of activity for the independence movement generally. This trip will also briefly visit Crois na Leanabh site where some primary accounts of the incident there will be presented. Many thanks to the O'Brien family for kindly facilitating this interesting local heritage event. The bus will leave the marquee at 4 p.m. and should be returning to the village around 6 p.m. Everyone welcome to attend this free event.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION:

Mon 9 to 1; Wed 2 to 8

Altar Servers' Oufits

Perhaps some homes have altar servers' vestments (red soutane and white surplice) which are no logner needed. We would be very grateful if you would consider bringing them to us to help us cope with increased demand.

From Encyclical 'Laudato Si'

69. Together with our obligation to use the earth's goods responsibly, we are called to recognize that other living beings have a value of their own in God's eyes: "by their mere existence they bless him and give him glory" (Ps 104:31). By virtue of our unique dignity and our gift of intelligence, we are called to respect creation and its inherent laws, for "the Lord by wisdom founded the earth" (Prov 3:19). In our time, the Church does not simply state that other creatures are completely subordinated to the good of human beings, as if they have no worth in themselves and can be treated as we wish.
 Where other creatures are concerned, "we can speak of the priority of being over that of being useful". The Catechism clearly and forcefully criticizes a distorted anthropocentrism: "Each creature possesses its own particular goodness and perfection... Each of the various creatures, willed in its own being, reflects in its own way a ray of God's infinite wisdom and goodness. Man must therefore respect the particular goodness of every creature, to avoid any disordered use of things".

70. In the story of Cain and Abel, we see how envy led Cain to commit the ultimate injustice against his brother, which in turn ruptured the relationship between Cain and God, and between Cain and the earth from which he was banished. ...

Disregard for the duty to cultivate and maintain a proper relationship with my neighbour, for whose care and custody I am responsible, ruins my relationship with my own self, with others, with God and with the earth. When all these relationships are neglected, when justice no longer dwells in the land, the Bible tells us that life itself is endangered. We see this in the story of Noah, where God threatens to do away with humanity because of its constant failure to fulfil the requirements of justice and peace: ...
 These ancient stories, full of symbolism, bear witness to a conviction which we today share, that everything is interconnected, and that genuine care for our own lives and our relationships with nature is inseparable from fraternity, justice and faithfulness to others.
